

CASH FOR WHEAT

(National Crop Improvement Service.)

THE time is coming, if indeed not already here, that the sign on an elevator "cash for wheat" will mean little or nothing. The old method of buying wheat was to give every farmer practically the same price regardless of quality, the elevator man trusting to luck in mixing to make his profit.

The federal grain grader have put a stop to this and the heavier and cleaner the grain, the more money is paid the farmer.

In some localities it is the practice to bid on the grade of wheat which is most plentiful, and to pay a premium of a cent a pound, for instance, on all wheat which is heavier and cleaner.

In spite of the market quotations a good car on any grain exchange will bring a premium.

During the past season when spring wheat has been very light, a good plump car would often bring a premium of from 25 to 50 cents a bushel in spite of the market.

There are many varieties of wheat which should be discouraged. For instance, the millers do not want velvet chaff on account of it being soft and starchy, and red durum which is creeping in, is being discounted radically because it is fit for little but chicken feed.

In other sections a strong effort is being made to establish the variety best adapted to soil and climate. This means money for everybody—farmer, dealer, miller, baker and consumer.

KRUPA CLOSING SALE RECALLS SLANDER SUIT

The announcement by Mrs. Krupa today that she will tomorrow start a closing out sale of her department store at 150th street and Baring avenue, East Chicago, in which sale every article will be sold at 55 cents on the dollar recalls to mind the suit recently filed by Mrs. Krupa against Father Peter Budnick in the Hammond superior court.

Mrs. Krupa, who owns and conducts a department store in East Chicago has in the building over the store room a large hall which she rents for meetings. In her complaint she alleged that Father Budnick had from the pulpit asserted that she was renting her hall for bolshevik meetings and was therefore not deserving of the patronage of the good people of the community. In answer to the filing of the suit a number of the prominent Poles of the community caused to be published in The Times over their names a resolution confirming the charges made by the priest.

Whether or not the recommendation of the priest is responsible, Mrs. Krupa is now forced in order to meet the demands of creditors to sell her entire stock at half price and will endeavor to sell the $20,000 stock in three days beginning tomorrow morning and ending Monday night. Mrs. Krupa, it is understood, will leave East Chicago.

SCOUT FINANCE CAMPAIGN WILL BRING IN $5,000

East Chicago's Boy Scout finance campaign for $5,000 to "save scouting in East Chicago" got away to a flying start yesterday noon when Walter M. Kiplinger from national headquarters, made a short talk to about seventy-five men and women who had gathered at the Congregational church for a noon-day luncheon. Mr. Kiplinger complimented Scout Executive Watts highly on the work he has accomplished during the past two years and stated that East Chicago now has twice as many scouts as the average city of the size of East Chicago. The work of the scout organization, what it means to a community, and the possibilities which are offered the movement in East Chicago took up a few minutes of his time and then Mr. Kiplinger closed with a request for financial support in the amount of at least $5,000. Other cities smaller than East Chicago, he said, had contributed as much as $20,000. The majority of the reports from the workers who started yesterday noon will not be received until tonight, but the preliminary reports which are coming in are very encouraging and the scout council is very optimistic that the $5,000 quota will be reached. The canvass of the city is expected to close today, but if it cannot be completed in that time it will be continued tomorrow.

New Autumn Tailleurs

Longer coats, vertical rows of stitching, convertible collars of self material or fur—all these points tend to heighten the new long silhouette. There are simple tailored suits, gaining their effectiveness from their fine fabrics and careful tailoring; others beautifully fur trimmed and embroidered.

A Smart Navy Blue Serge Suit Featuring Long Lines This Suit was specially designed for immediate practical purposes—for traveling, to wear to work, or shopping. It is fashioned of a splendid quality men's wear serge, has the new three-quarter length, narrow shoulders and a collar which may be buttoned high around the throat or worn low. Beautifully lined. $32.50

Slim is the Silhouette in Women's Tailored Suits. Both belted and belted are many of the new Autumn Suits, but in either event they follow the straight slender silhouette. Fabrics are rich in color and texture, but blue tricotine, which has become a perennial favorite, continues to enjoy a decided vogue. One of our splendid values in a suit, trimmed in seal and silk lined. $35.00

Why Your Clothes Cost More Elsewhere

Clothing merchants pay exorbitant rents and so they must get EXORBITANT PRICES.

But that isn't all: They buy high priced fixtures, they go in for rich walnut or mahogany; the useless floor walkers are taking their money—all this unnecessary expense on top of high rents. Is it any wonder you see $75 and $100 suits on sale? Is it any wonder you pay $25 to $50 too much for clothes—and then get stung?

Our rents are so small and our costs of doing business so low, coupled with our tremendous buying power in European markets, that we can give you the very finest hand-tailored, bench-made, all-wool Suits and Overcoats from guaranteed pure, all-wool imported fabrics at the ridiculous price of—guaranteed better than suits or overcoats you can get elsewhere at $75 to $125.

You pay cash—but that saves you and us the cost of bookkeeping. You do not get the polished glad hand of the sumptuous floor walker—but he doesn't make your suit look better—well hardly!

You don't enter a guided hall or a mahogany suite—but the finish of the woodwork doesn't make your suit any better or wear any better, does it?

Take a few minutes to look at the many beautiful patterns we have on display, where real woollens are the whole show and only real clothing men—tailors in every sense of the word—are on the job for you.

Let us prove to you now that we are legitimate tailors, making genuinely hand-tailored suits right here in Hammond — AT LESS THAN READY-MADE PRICES!
